

Holyoke Community presents: "A New Kind of Enemy"

HOLYOKE – The Holyoke Community College Theater Dept. presents Henrik Ibsen's "An Enemy of the People," a play in the late 19th century, a time when women largely lacked both power and standing in male-dominated society.

For the Holyoke Community College Theater Department's spring 2018 production, however, which opens April 19 for a three-day run, director Tom Geha reversed those roles.

Principal cast: Alma Huremovic, of West Springfield, (as Dr. Catherine Stockman); Louis Burgos, of Holyoke, (as Thomas Stockmann); Carina Savoie, of Agawam, (as Petra); Dan Ireland, of Feeding Hills, (as Peter Stockmann); Hannah Lebreche, of Holyoke, (as Morten Kiil); Ryan Dumont, of Chicopee, (as Hovstad); Matthew Gover, of Ludlow, (as Billing); Michael Barboza-McLean, of Feeding Hills, (as Horster); and Joshua Ortiz of Holyoke (as Aslasken).

The play will be presented April 19-21, 7:30 p.m. and April 21 at 2 p.m. All performances in HCC's Leslie Phillips Theater Tickets: $10 general admission; $8 students and seniors; $5 HCC community Friday, April 20 performance is ASL-interpreted. Set design and lighting by Matthew Whiton. Costumes by Richard Vaden.

Courtesy photo

Cast of HCC's "A New Kind of Enemy"