In The News

Pasquale receives HCC Foundation scholarship

HOLYOKE — The Holyoke Community College (HCC) Foundation has awarded a record 231 scholarships to incoming, current and graduating HCC students for the 2019-2020 academic year, totaling nearly $250,000.

The HCC community recognized the award winners along with the donors whose generosity makes those scholarships possible at a May 9 reception in the HCC Bartley Center for Athletics & Recreation.

Longmeadow resident and HCC alumna donor Gregory S. Schneider ’90, co-founder and chairman of 3BL Media in Northampton, and scholarship recipient and graduating art major Catherine Carujo ’19 of Deerfield, were the keynote speakers.

“I had been out of school for 34 years,” said Carujo. “Lucky for me I found my way to HCC. I was greeted so warmly by faculty and staff, and without the generosity of donors and HCC Foundation scholarships - all that belief in me - I wouldn’t be graduating now and going on to Mount Holyoke College.”

The annual “Scholarship Meet and Greet” provides an opportunity for students to interact with the donors responsible for their awards.

Over the years, the HCC Foundation, the nonprofit fundraising arm of the college, has provided nearly $2.8 million in student scholarships while also investing in classroom equipment and technology for select academic and student support programs.

“The community is so invested in the foundation and in the college. It’s quite impressive,” said Amanda Sbriccia, vice president of Institutional Advancement. “People are passionate about our mission and the work that we do, and that translates into life-changing financial support.”

Scholarship recipient Sage Pasquale of Holyoke, second from left, is shown with HCC professor Kate Maiolatesi, far left, and Maiolatesi’s sisters, who endowed an HCC Foundation Scholarship in memory of their mother, Jolayne Hinkel.