

Captioning

- The ADA and the Rehabilitation Act require that audio and video be captioned for individuals who are Deaf/Hard of Hearing. Content should be accessible to students in real time, meaning they should not have to wait for captioning to be done. With this in mind, seek out video and audio that is captioned (or provides transcripts.)
- Third party videos -- more and more content providers are providing accessible video. Films on Demand and Kanopy Streaming -- both available through the HCC Library -- offer thousands of captioned videos. If you need help finding quality accessible content to meet your course's needs, please seek support from the HCC Library and/or Online Programs. If there is a public YouTube video that is an essential part of your course, it can be captioned. Please contact Online Programs for support.
- For videos that you create – Cielo24 (<https://cielo24.com>) can create high quality transcripts, closed captioning and interactive transcripts in order to make your videos accessible and more engaging. You can submit a captioning request through the Faculty Lounge in Moodle. Please contact Mike Kowalewski for additional support.
