Dependency Status Appeal 2022-2023

Are you applying for financial aid but can't provide your parent's financial information? This form is for you!

Last Name	First Name	MI
Phone Number	HCC ID

What to know:

When applying for financial aid, Federal law assumes that you are a dependent student and that you will provide your parents' information on the FAFSA application unless you meet one of the following conditions.

1. Were you born before Jan. 1, 1999?
2. As of today, are you married? (Also answer "Yes" if you are separated but not divorced.)
3. At the beginning of the 2022–23 school year, will you be working on a master's or doctorate program (such as an M.A., MBA, M.D., J.D., Ph.D., Ed.D, graduate certificate, etc.)?
4. Do you now have—or will you have—children who will receive more than half of their support from you between July 1, 2022, and June 30, 2023 [during the award year]?
5. Do you have dependents (other than your children or spouse) who live with you and who receive more than half of their support from you, now and through June 30, 2023?
6. Are you currently serving on active duty in the U.S. armed forces for purposes other than training?
7. Are you a veteran of the U.S. armed forces?
8. At any time since you turned age 13, were both your parents deceased, were you in foster care, or were you a dependent or ward of the court?
9. Has it been determined by a court in your state of legal residence that you are an emancipated minor or that someone other than your parent or stepparent has legal guardianship of you?
10. At any time on or after July 1, 2021, were you determined to be an unaccompanied youth who was homeless? Were you self-supporting and at risk of being homeless, as determined by (a) your high school or district homeless liaison, (b) the director of an emergency shelter or transitional housing program funded by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, or (c) the director of a runaway or homeless youth basic center or transitional living program?

If you do not meet any of the conditions for independent status outlined above, you may appeal if you believe you have an extenuating situation. An extenuating situation is any severe or extraordinary situation in your family that prevents you from obtaining your parents' financial information.

The following are not considered unusual circumstances for the purpose of achieving independent status for financial aid:

- You do not live in your parents' home.
- You are self-supporting or your parents cannot afford or refuse to help with college or living expenses.
- You are not claimed as a dependent on your parents' income tax.
- Your parents are unwilling to provide their financial information to complete the FAFSA or for verification.

APPEAL PROCEDURES FOR EXTENUATING CIRCUMSTANCES:

Step 1.

Go to www.fafsa.gov and fill out your FAFSA. You only need to complete the student section.

Step 2.

Write a personal statement that explains your situation. If you have two parents, write an explanation for each one. Please print, sign, and submit the statement(s) to the Financial Aid office (our address or next cloud secure link is provided at the end of this document).

Step 3.

Get a supporting statement or statements, and submit to the Financial Aid office.

What is a supporting statement? The federal government requires another person or people to support your request by explaining your extenuating situation and the reason you can't provide your parent(s)'s financial information.

You might need two supporting statements: If you get a supporting statement on official letterhead from someone who is considered an "expert" (such as a therapist, teacher, or clergy), you only need one supporting statement. If you don't have someone like that, that's okay! In that case, you'll need two supporting statements from people who can explain your extenuating situation and why you can't provide your parent(s)'s information on the FAFSA.

If you are a returning HCC student who has been approved for a dependency override before, no supporting statement is necessary! You only need to submit your personal statement and explain that your situation has not changed.

Step 4.

Once you've completed all three steps our financial aid counselors will look at all the information you provided and send you a letter or email letting you know if:

- Your request has been approved
- We need more information
- Your request is not approved*

This process usually takes about two weeks. We will do everything we can to help you get the money you need for college.

* Don't worry! Even if you don't meet the requirements for a dependency override, you may still be eligible for an unsubsidized loan or scholarships. We'll help you find out.
